PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Program manager and NGO executive with 8+ years of experience designing and implementing social impact programs addressing health equity, structural violence, and marginalized population support in Brazil. Currently serves as CSMO (Chief Strategy & Marketing Officer) at DiverCidade Hub, CEO at Uprise Creative Agency, and President Director at UmMaisUm NGO, where he oversees NEDS (Center for Studies in Diversity and Sexuality) programs including sexual violence survivor support, healthy masculinity initiatives, and comprehensive sexuality education.

Combines executive leadership experience with hands-on program management across NGO, corporate, and clinical settings. Strong foundation in stakeholder engagement, cross-functional team leadership, results tracking, and multi-sector partnership building. Training in public health policy (USP, UFRGS) with focus on LGBTQIAPN+ health equity and social determinants of health.

Background includes communications, people management, and neuroscience applied to human behavior—enabling unique perspective on how individuals and organizations can align intentions with impact. Lived experience of overcoming adversity in Rio de Janeiro's periphery informs commitment to health equity and social justice for marginalized populations.
